DELAYED DISPATCHES

Report General White Wounded at Ladysmith and Gone to Pietermaritzburg.

The British Commander Reported to Have Retired to Pietermaritzburg -- And His Forces Probably Went With Him -- Heavy List of Wounded -- British Troops Reported Hiding Under Ground to Keep Out of the Way of Boer Shells -- Boers Have Destroyed the Railroad Bridge at Colenso -- London Morning Cables.

By Associated Press in the Journal.

GENERAL WHITE WOUNDED.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(Dispatches from a correspondent with the Boers near Ladysmith up to Nov. 14, say that on November 10 eight Lydite shells were fired into the Transvaal central artillery position without doing any harm. Commandant Weillbach captured a man who reported General White wounded and gone to Pietermaritzburg, leaving General Church in command. This however, does not tally with the Transvaal's information. The prisoner also reported British forces hiding in underground chambers to avoid shells and said there were about 1,000 wounded in the hospital. General Joubert has been indisposed but is better.

Steel Bridge Destroyed.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Official Volsten reports the bridge over the Tugela river near Colenso completely destroyed November 15. About 600 Burghers with cannon are guarding the Helpakaar pass, 18 miles from Dundee.

Delayed Reports.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—This war office has received the following from Buller: "CAPE TOWN, Nov. 17.—Report from Kimberley November 11, says all well there. Reports from Ladysmith November 12 and 13 say all well."

London Morning News.

LONDON, Nov. 18, Saturday 5 a. m.—The absence of news of any serious movement against Ladysmith seems to show that the Boers are repeating the strategy adopted by them at Dundee, when they appeared in front and endeavored to effect the surrounding movement. This seems to have been their object regarding Estcourt, and since it is impossible that relief should reach there for some days to come, it is not unlikely that a further retreating movement on the Moei river will be made.

Major Wolff Murray has returned to Pietermaritzburg to take charge of the line of communication, and Colonel Young, of the Royal artillery, has taken command at Estcourt.

The forces now at Pietermaritzburg are too weak to attempt to reopen communication. Artillery, and cavalry, are badly needed, and it necessarily will take a long time to obtain either, owing to the difficulty of entraining.

and the necessity of allowing horses to rest after a long sea voyage. From the indiscriminate distribution of the various divisions at unexpected points, it seems clear that the original plans of General Buller have been wholly changed. Not the slightest word regarding the new plans has been allowed escape.

It has been reported that the Belmont flight arose owing to the advance of a British column to relieve Kimberley, but this seems incorrect, all of the most reliable accounts representing the engagement as growing out of a reconnaissance.

The announcement of the arrival of General Methuen at the Orange river, however, doubtless means that the arrangements are in a forward state, for the advance from that point if advance has not only already begun. Last Tuesday a Boer force of 600 entered Alwal North, Cape Colony, hoisted the flag of the Free State, and declared the town and district to be part of the republic. The activity of the Boers in this locality would almost point to the necessity of insuring the safety of the column marching to the relief of Kimberley from attack from this direction or from Bloemfontein.

In view of the reluctance of General Buller, it is almost useless to speculate regarding the report of a movement to relieve Kimberley. It can only be intended to withdraw the Boers, if possible, from Natal.

The object of the occupation of Alwal North, it is understood, is to prevent the large quantity of ammunition at Herschel being forwarded to Jamestown, and thence to the Queen's Own. The Boers have notified the inhabitants that no looting will be allowed.

There is reliable report of mysterious movements of Free State commands along the Orange river, and important developments are expected. Everything tends to show that the relief of Kimberley could only be safely undertaken by a strong column.

Advices from Maseru, Basutoland, dated Wednesday, November 8, say that Chief Joel, terrorized by false Boer assertions that the British have been beaten in every engagement and are being driven out of South Africa, is preparing to join the Boers, believing they are the winning side. The Boers are said to have supplied him with guns, which they have accepted with apocryphal promises.

Ladysmith Taken Nov. 15.
A London telegram of the 17th said: According to the latest advices, Ladysmith is holding out satisfactorily, everything having been well up to Wednesday the 15th.

The Journal's Pretoria dispatch from Ladysmith said during the day (Wednesday the 15th) the troops left the city deserted and sought shelter on the edge of the hill to escape the death-dealing shells.

The dispatch adds: "The trains are working excellently from Pretoria to Ladysmith. The Boers have ample food, but are short of clothes."

A Portland Pro-British paper prints the dispatch thus:

The dispatch from Pretoria also says that the prisoners at that place include, of the Eighteenth Hussars, four officers and 91 noncommissioned officers and men; of the Dublin Fusiliers, four officers and 12 noncommissioned officers and men; of the Irish Fusiliers, 10 officers, and 533 noncommissioned officers and men; of the Gloucesters, 14 officers and 305 noncommissioned officers and men; of the artillery, five officers and 60 noncommissioned officers and men; of the rifles, two officers and 89 noncommissioned officers and men; of the dragoons, one man; of the Natal police, one man; political, 82 men; sick 38 men.

A Salem paper print it thus:

A dispatch from Pretoria says, the British prisoners at that place number sixty-two officers and 1,204 noncommissioned officers and men.

Everything indicates that we are on the eve of very important developments in the region of the Orange river and along the line of De Aar Junction, Cologers, Burgersdorp and Alwal North.

BULLER'S ARMY.

Over Seven Thousand Men Have Landed at Durban.

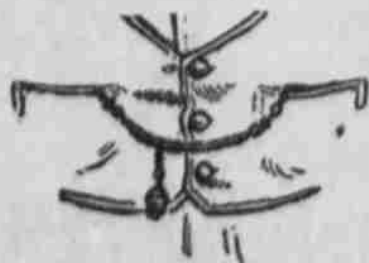

By Associated Press in the Journal.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The admiralty announced this afternoon the arrival at Cape Town today of the troopship Arona with a battalion of the Argyll and Southern Highlanders.

They are bringing the reinforcements up to 23,500, of which 7200 have already disembarked at Durban with 18 field guns, a number of machine guns, engineers and hospital troops, as well as 700 mules. This force, with that already between Estcourt and Durban, is considered sufficient to enable General Buller to advance, and to take the aggressive against the Boers south of Ladysmith.

JOINED BOTH'S FORCES.
Four Thousand Boers Move From Ladysmith to Estcourt.
